HOGAN LOVELLS CADWALADER ■

When I first entered the fund finance business nearly twenty years ago, I could not have imagined the size and scale the industry would reach—or the extent to which we'd need to grow to keep you, the client, at the forefront of everything we do.

Yesterday we announced the launch of Hogan Lovells Cadwalader, the largest law firm merger in history—a milestone that cements our position as a leading force in the fund finance market.

A truly global platform

As Hogan Lovells Cadwalader we now operate a transatlantic platform anchored in the world's most important financial centers. With more than 3,200 lawyers across the Americas, EMEA, and APAC, we are equipped to help you navigate complex matters wherever you do business. Our finance, corporate, regulatory, and disputes capabilities span every major jurisdiction and time zone, allowing us to deliver consistent, high-quality and efficient service at scale.

Depth of expertise you can count on

Our fund finance practice continues to lead the market. Since 2018 we have advised lenders on more than $2 trillion of commitments—including subscription, NAV, hybrid, GP, management fee, hedge fund, venture capital facilities, preferred equity, rated noted feeder, and many other novel structured capital solutions for our clients. This depth of experience positions us to support the next wave of growth in the sector while keeping your interests front and center.

Fund Finance Friday* - now refreshed

For eight years, Fund Finance Friday has been more than a website. It's your go-to weekly source of market intelligence. With a refreshed brand and an expanded roster of global contacts, we're excited to bring you even more tailored content in the upcoming editions. We also look forward to introducing you to many of our new partners and colleagues soon. We encourage you to subscribe to Fund Finance Friday on LinkedIn and stay connected with the firm on Hogan Lovells Cadwalader's LinkedIn page.

While our branding has evolved, our commitment to your success has not. We want to give you the decisive edge. Thank you for trusting us with your business; we look forward to delivering an even broader range of services in the years ahead.
